Women and their Economic Might: The New Ideological Paradigm of Nguji wa Thiong'o in Nguji's works, the tenth chapter burrows into Guthera's economic inventiveness which opens the prison and mental home doors to Matigari, Ngaruro and other citizens of that unnamed country; the ingenuity of Grace Nyawira which earns Comet Kamiti huge relevance; and Wariinga's professional exploits. The myth of creation and placement of man in the Garden of Eden by the Christian religion, locates the woman in between man and the demon. This summation informs the eleventh chapter to be titled Women Chasing Demons: An Ecocritical Assessment of Wrestling with the Devil|
